Thousands Welcomed To Pumpkin Show

Last Of The Old Timers Retires From Police Force

Sgt. Rod List, the last of the old timers, has retired from the Circleville Police Department after 27 years of service to the community.

Tuesday was the last working day for the congenial law enforcer although his retirement is not effective until Dec. 1.

List, 52, started with the police department June 1, 1944, under then chief of police, the late Bugs McCraay. Thurman Miller was safety director and Benny Gordon mayor at the time.

He was appointed twice to the temporary position of sergeant prior to 1960 when the permanent appointment was made. When List took the sergeant's civil service examination in 1953 his grade was the highest, but because of seniority he did not at that time receive the appointment.

HE has consistently scored the highest on all promotional civil service examinations he has ever taken.

In all his 27 years on the force he has never been shot at and has never taken a shot at anybody, although he has fired a few warning shots in the line of duty.

The sergeant recalled a recent incident in which a female drunk driver not only refused to stop but tried to run the cruiser off the road. List fired one shot in the air and so frightened the woman that she lost control of the car she was driving, went off the road and into the ditch. She was completely speechless for quite some time after the accident, List said.

He has had several memorable moments during his career, but enjoys talking most about the burglaries he has had a hand in solving.

About a year ago he played a key role in the quick apprehension of two men who held up Revco Drug Store at gunpoint.

List said that was probably the quickest apprehension ever made in Circleville in connection with a burglary or robbery and credited cooperation of all law enforcement agencies in the (Continued on Page 7)

Largest Squash Ever Grown On Display

Mayor Richard Gerhardt formally opened the 1971 Pumpkin Show under a beautiful blue sky in ceremonies at 2 p.m. today, welcoming thousands of visitors to Circleville.

Frank Coon, Ashville farmer associated with Coon Brothers, stunned a Wednesday morning Pumpkin Show crowd with a 337½ pound "mistake."

Coon brought the biggest squash ever to the 65 Pumpkin Show — a squash that Vice-President of the Show, Ned Harden, claims is the "largest squash in the world." It is on display at the West Main Street Pumpkin, Squash and gourd exhibit.

Coon's two entries were the first weighed by director Clarence Radcliffe.

HIS first entry, a 264 pounder, was grown on the same vine as the record setter, a fete Coon claims was a "mistake."

According to Coon, squash growers pluck blossoms off each plant, leaving a solitary bloom to grow.

But he apparently missed one and the result was a squash plant with 601½ pounds of produce.

Radcliffe weighed the "little" squash first, watched seven men place the "big" one on the scales and pinned the blue ribbon on it immediately.

He asked other entrants if they "had anything as big" but (Continued on Page 2)

LARGEST EVER — The largest squash ever exhibited at the Circleville Pumpkin Show — possibly largest in the world — is seen in the shadows of the scales Wednesday morning. The 337½ pound Hungarian orange was cultivated by Frank Coon, Ashville, pictured behind his gigantic vegetable. Last year's record squash was a baby by comparison, a mere 289 pounds.

Mrs. Wolford Enters Top Pumpkin Pie

Laurels in the Pumpkin Pie Baking Contest were given to the entry Wednesday of a Circleville woman, Mrs. John Wolford.

Pie Contest Director Mrs. Robert Shadley announced that Mrs. Wolford, of 936 Lincoln Drive, would receive the daily prize of $20 for entering the best pumpkin pie of the day. She is also given an opportunity to compete for the top pie entry in Saturday's bake-off and a $50 prize.

Second place Wednesday was given to Myrtle Lingo, of Williamsport, a long-time entrant in the contest. She was awarded $15 and a ribbon. Winning the $10 third prize was Mrs. William Parker, Route 1, Stoutsville and fourth place and $5, Mrs. Walter May, 481 E. Franklin St.

Betty Keating and Brenda Burris of Columbia Gas of Ohio Inc. and Judy Spofford of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. were judges. The pumpkin pie contest is sponsored this year by Goellers Paint Store, Bingham's Drugs, Gordon's Auto Parts and Glass, Radcliffes Cleaners, Harden Chevrolet and Pumpkin Show Inc.

Following the 11 a.m. judging, all pies are sold to the public from the pie baking contest location at 115 N. Court St.

Pickaway County Sheriff, Dwight Radcliff, issued a warning to female motorists Wednesday, telling them not to stop their cars for anyone, unless it is a law-enforcement car equipped with flashing red beacon light. The announcement was made in the wake of several rape and rape attempts allegedly committed by a motorist flashing his headlights at single female drivers in an effort to have them pull their cars from the roadway.

There is a special scent in the air when it is Pumpkin Show time and all Roundtown is so perfumed today. It's pancakes and sausages, spicy pumpkin pie, sweet cotton candy and caramel corn and other carnival treats mixed with the distinctive and sharp fragrance of autumn and falling leaves.

Mrs. Geneva Woodward is missing her first Pumpkin Show parade "in years and years" (the Little Miss) to prepare a feast for the 14 teenage queen candidates and their judges at the Pickaway Country Club tonight. A new treat this year for the queenly competitors, Pumpkin Show directors have arranged the dinner so that the judges can get together for a little chat and get to know each other a little better prior to the final judging about 9:30 this evening.

A Roundtown YMCA director asks what to do with thoroughly water-soaked corn. It appears that he asked his son to unload a car full of squashes, pumpkins and decorative corn and to wash them off in the shower. The boy did just that.

Good news, folks! Ol' Governor Whatshisname will be here for all the Pumpkin Show... It's true... In the "Treasures from Trash" category of the Home Arts and Crafts display, someone entered a creation which they dubbed "Governor Whatshisname." It can be seen in the YMCA building on E. Franklin St.

Many attractive displays are housed in the "Y" building. There can be found the decorated cakes, plain (but absolutely delicious) cakes of all flavors, cookies, breads, amateur art exhibits, crafts of all sorts, the bright canned goods display, plus the home arts where all those skilled knitters, seamstresses and needleworkers display their wares. It's worth at least an hour of your time to stop in and browse a bit.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Terry of New York City are visiting the Pumpkin Show for the second year. Mr. Terry is the retired proprietor of a sporting goods store on Long Island. He particularly likes the root beer and gives that as one of the main reasons for returning again this year.

Mrs. Esther McClarren of San Francisco, Calif., is attending the Pumpkin Show again this year. A former resident of Circleville, Mrs. McClarren has missed just one show in the past 15 years.

Miss Melanie Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Clark, Route 1, Lockbourne former Circleville residents, will twirl two fire batons 6 p.m. Thursday on the Franklin St. platform. Miss Clark is head majorette at Hamilton Twp. School and will lead the band in the evening parade.

Council Okays Legislation To Pay Current Expenses

Circleville Council approved an ordinance appropriating $12,061.45 to pay current bills at the Tuesday meeting.

An ordinance passed at the first meeting in October and signed by Mayor Richard Gerhardt returned all unspent moneys except salary accounts to the general fund.

Bills will now be paid by ordinance at each meeting. The action is part of the austerity program by council to hold spending to a minimum.

Councilman Samuel (Pete) Cook voted against passage of the ordinance. Cook, cast his negative vote when a detailed accounting of the bills was not available.

HE was told by David Goldschmidt and also by David Crawford that all bills were a matter of public record and on file in City Auditor Marvane Turner's office where they could be viewed.

An ordinance introduced by Cook at the last meeting lowering the salary of service director to $7,200 annually was held for a third reading.

An ordinance authorizing the safety director to advertise for bids for a 1972 pickup truck was tabled at the request of Crawford. Crawford stated the service department still needed the pickup truck, but that because of unanticipated expenses in the department he felt it was not the proper time to make the purchase.

Legislation transferring $10,000 from the permissive motor vehicle tax fund to the major street repair fund was approved after a first reading by council members.

Charge Holland Firm With River Pollution

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Wildlife Division officials filed charges in Toledo Municipal Court Tuesday accusing the Peirce Construction Co. of Holland with polluting six to seven miles of the Ottawa River during the Fourth of July weekend. The officials said the firm built a bypass ditch in a highway construction project near here, that permitted "millions of gallons of sewage" to pour into the river.

Three appointments made by Mayor Richard Gerhardt were approved by council. The appointments were: Robert H. Huffer, 389 Markley Road, reappointed to the Berger Hospital Board of Governors for a term ending May 31, 1975; W. P. Yamarick, 356 Markley Road, to the planning and

Close Bridge After Noises Are Heard

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — Experts from the State Department of Highways are scheduled to begin a thorough inspection of the Wheeling suspension bridge closed here Tuesday night after residents heard loud cracking noises.

The 115-year-old suspension bridge that spans the Ohio River's main channel, connecting Wheeling to Wheeling Island, was ordered closed by Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr.

Residents of the area reported Tuesday they heard loud cracking noises on the span as three heavy trucks crossed the bridge, supposedly closed to trucks.

Also today, Ohio Gov. John Gilligan is scheduled to be in Steubenville, Ohio, to discuss possible replacement of the Fort Steuben bridge that crosses the river to Weirton, W. Va.

Weight limits on that span and on the Fort Henry bridge at Wheeling have been cut drastically in the last several years, leaving trucks with few places to cross the river.

The cable-suspension Wheeling bridge was built in 1856 by John B. Roebeling to replace an earlier bridge that had collapsed in a wind storm. Roebeling then went to New York to manage construction of the Brooklyn Bridge.

At the time the suspension bridge was built, steamships on the river had to hinge their smokestacks, lowering them every time they passed underneath it on their way to and from Pittsburgh.

North Viets Hit Allied Fire Bases

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese gunners continued harassing allied artillery bases along the Cambodian border today and shelled U.S. Fire Base Pace for the 26th consecutive day.

Pace, 60 miles northwest of Saigon, has been hit by more than 600 rounds of mortars and rockets since the North Vietnamese launched an offensive in the region four weeks ago.

Field reports indicated the well-entrenched American artillerymen have suffered fewer than 30 wounded.

The base commander, Maj. Joseph Dye, 33, of Portland, Ore., told Associated Press photographer Richard Merron: "General activity has gone down. My patrols haven't been running into anything lately, and the number of incoming shells has decreased."

"They continue to harass us but there is no real pattern," Pace is manned by American and South Vietnamese troops.

Nine mortar rounds that hit the American side of the base during the night caused no casualties, but the South Vietnamese said 10 government soldiers were wounded in a 15-round mortar barrage that struck the South Vietnamese portion of Pace.

House Blocks Vote On Pullout Maneuver Avoids Direct Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-war senators mounted a new drive to cut off money for the Indochina war today after House leaders blocked a yes-or-no vote but claimed House rejection of a Senate six-month war deadline.

House-Senate conferees immediately set to work trying to compromise a $21-billion weapons bill containing the deadline after a fiery House battle Tuesday.

House Armed Services Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., pessimistically predicted "a long, cold winter" before the conferees reach agreement.

The new Cooper-Church amendment to cut off all money for the war except funds needed to pull out U.S. forces was up for Senate Foreign Relations Committee consideration this afternoon.

Previous efforts similar to the one by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, to cut short the war by halting funds have been rejected by both House and Senate.

House Republican Whip Leslie C. Arends of Illinois sidetracked a direct vote on the Senate's six-month deadline Tuesday by moving that the House reject five Senate amendments including the war amendment purely on grounds they violate House rules requiring that amendments be pertinent to the bill under debate.

"Young Americans are getting their guts blown out in Vietnam," said Rep. Charles W. Whalen Jr., R-Ohio, "and we're sitting here in the House debating germaneness."

An effort to override Arends and clear the way for a direct vote on the six-month deadline was rejected 215 to 192—and the White House and House leaders interpreted that as rejection of the deadline.

State Receives Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Transportation said Tuesday an additional $3.5 million will be made available to Ohio on a 50-50 matching basis to help the state finance its highway safety program.

New York Policemen On Take?

NEW YORK (AP) — A patrolman who served as an undercover agent for a commission investigating New York City police corruption has testified that officers to every division in the city receive bribes from gamblers.

Patrolman William R. Phillips told the Knapp Commission Tuesday that gamblers in one small Harlem precinct alone paid at least $70,000 a month in graft to precinct officers.

Phillips became an undercover agent for the commission after commission investigators obtained a tape showing that he was arranging payoffs to other policemen from the madam of an East Side house of prostitution.

The first witness to testify at public hearings being held by the commission, Phillips was asked how many plainclothesmen on the New York force take bribe money.

"To my knowledge, every one," he declared, adding that he had "never known someone in plainclothes for two months who is not on the pad"—receiving bribes.

Phillips, 39, testified that when he moved up from plainclothes patrolman to detective and was transferred to an anti-gambling unit in Harlem, he took home $1,000 a month in illegal payments for six months.

Mrs. Friece's Apple Jelly Takes Top Prize In Canned Goods Show

A jar of apple jelly, noted by the judge for its clearness and excellent color, was proclaimed the most outstanding entry in the 1971 Canned Goods competition at the Pumpkin Show.

Submitting the prize-winning jelly was Mrs. William Friece, 903 S. Washington St. Eighty-year-old Mrs. Friece, whose son operates a roadside produce stand Route 56-east, made her prize winning entry under difficult conditions, according to reports. Her son, feeling that the canning operation could be too strenuous for the elderly lady, refused to bring her any apples to can this year. So Mrs. Friece ordered her goods from a Pickaway County farmer and had them delivered to her home.

Her efforts were worthwhile. For her grand champion entry, Mrs. Friece won a 10 dollar award and a rosette—very commendable for a lady entering her eighth decade of life.

Canned Goods director Geneva Woodward and her assistant Marlene Adams report a good show this year in their display off the first floor gymnasium of the YMCA building on E. Franklin St. A number of past winners repeated their showing this year, including 1970 grand prize winner, Mrs. Paul Stout. Mrs. Stout took prize ribbons for her peach, plum, raspberry, blackberry, apple, green beans, beets, lima beans, peas, carrots, pimientos, watermelon pickles, grape jelly, apple jelly, peach preserves and raspberry preserves entries.

Mrs. Emma Richter of Pittsburgh, Pa., judged this year's canned goods display.

Winning entries in all categories are:

present at the meeting. John Fissell noted since the township would have some financial obligation in the south end storm sewer the trustees would like to know the city's plans in time to prepare the budget for the coming year.

Councilmen Cook and Gladden Troutman both brought up the subject of a house trailer at Court and Ohio Streets. Service Director Atwood Jones reported that the owner, Donald Nance, had filed for a variance in the city zoning ordinance so he could locate the trailer at his place of business, a soft ice cream establishment. Planning and zoning refused to grant the variance. However, Nance removed an old trailer that was there before and placed the new trailer.

Jones filed charges of violating the city code against Nance and the case was heard in court last Thursday. Judge Sterling Lamb ruled the trailer was a non conforming use present when the zoning ordinance was approved and as such should be permitted to remain. The judge ruled that a non-conforming use could be replaced by a non-conforming use.

Jones stated one of the purposes of zoning is to eliminate non conforming uses and the judge's ruling virtually negated that section of the zoning code. Jones said that although planning and zoning hoped to appeal the judge's decision, he did not know if funds for an appeal are available.

Chief of Police Robert Temple reported that Sgt. Wesley Barton and Dispatcher Dick Lamb had taken pictures of 29 railroad crossings in the city, many of which are in very bad shape. Temple said the city hoped to use the photos in an effort to have the railroad companies repair the crossings.

Officials Investigate Theft Tries, Destructive Vandalism

Circleville Police and Pickaway County Sheriff's department are investigating a rash of vandalism and theft attempts Wednesday morning.

Sheriff's Deputy Earl Kuhn, on routine patrol 9:56 p.m. Tuesday scared thieves from a service station at the Derby crossroads.

The men, apparently fleeing on foot from the station when Kuhn arrived, had broken a door panel in the building to gain access and ransacked the station, leaving the booty in piles when frightened away.

Small change was taken from the Apple House Salvage Yard on Route 23 Tuesday night as thieves pried a panel off the basement door to gain entrance.

Three coin operated laundries were struck by thieves Tuesday night. Hardest hit was the W. Main St. Laundromat, where $50 in change was taken. But thieves could find nothing in change boxes at Duds and Suds E. Franklin St., and Porter's, on N. Court St.

A coin box was rifled at Porter's car wash on N. Court St., but nothing was reported missing.

Malicious destruction of property was also investigated, as vandals apparently threw pumpkins at mailboxes owned by Wayne F. Brown, Route 1, Groveport, and Dale Logsdon Route 2, Ashville.

Big Banks Cut Interest Rate To Top Firms

NEW YORK (AP) — Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York cut its prime lending rate from 6 per cent to 5 today and was followed quickly by other big banks.

Announcing identical cuts were Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, the nation's third largest bank, Citizens & Southern National Bank of Atlanta and the Bank of California.

The prime rate is the interest charged by commercial banks on loans to their best corporate customers. It had been at 6 per cent since July.

Temple also reported that his department was receiving numerous complaints about youngsters riding mini bikes on private property and on the streets. He suggested council might have to prepare legislation to control use of mini bikes. He noted they must be licensed and the operator must be licensed in order for them to be used on the streets.

Councilman Cook said that three cases of hepatitis were reported in the Isaac Addition and residents of the area feared the disease may be spread by contaminated wells in the area. Cook said he felt council should do all possible to get city water to the area immediately.

Charles Taylor, director of public utilities, said he believed in an emergency the city could authorize installation of the lines without seeking bids for construction and engineering. He said he would study the legality of such action and make a report to council.

Present at Tuesday's session were: President Joe Bell, Clerk Robert Shadley, councilmen Crawford, Cook, Goldschmidt, Frank Barnhill, Troutman, Harold Clifton and Keith Wagner.

Born May 11, 1879, in Pike County, he was the son of George and Sarah Blakeman Brigner.

He was first married to Sarah Drake, deceased, and secondly to Della Brooks, who survives.

He is also survived by two sons, John Brigner, Indian Lake; Alton Brigner, Baltimore, Md.; four daughters, Florence Miller, Zephyr Hills, Fla.; Mrs. Mattie Calhoun, Whitehall; Mrs. Minnie Skinner, Chillicothe; Mrs. Bernice Ortman, Baltimore, Md.; two stepsons, Joe Jenkins, Tarleton; John Jenkins, Circleville; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Minnie Arledge, Circleville; 32 grandchildren; 46 great-grandchildren; two brothers, Leroy Brigner, Portsmouth; William Brigner, Ontario, Canada.

Funeral services will be 10 a.m. Friday, at the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. John Demint officiating.

Burial will be in Hallsville Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. today.

HE plans to sell seeds Saturday to interested people and was even heard offering to mail seeds to an area farmer who couldn't make the Fair's last day.

In his opening remarks today Mayor Gerhardt stated the 65th annual Pumpkin Show is bigger and better than ever. "The Great Pumpkin has returned to Circleville," he stated.

"With all the displays, parades, free entertainment, beautiful young ladies, who this year include Miss America and the Carousel Queen from the Carolinas, and with the many pumpkin delicacies to eat there is just no way not to enjoy this year's show," he stated.

On a more somber note, the mayor stated: "We are all saddened that Circleville's most famous son and one of Pumpkin Show's greatest fans, Ted Lewis, has died and cannot be with us this year."

Today's big activities included the judging of the Little Miss Pumpkin Show and the parade of the petite tots and the Miss Pumpkin Show Parade and judging tonight.

BAKE-OFF — Junior High Vocational Home Economics classes at Circleville competed in a pumpkin pie baking contest Tuesday with five top pies selected by a judging panel of teachers: Mrs. Helen Davis, Miss Joann Schepman and Louis Simpson. Judging was done similar to that in the Pumpkin Show baking contest, noting color, texture, total appearance and flavor. The girls baking the top five pies are shown above — Brenda Weaver, Barbara Jenkins, Carol DeMint, Cathy McKinley, Melba Perkins, Sherri Dunn, Sheryl Francis and Cheryl Krahn. In their studies, the girls learned how to get a pumpkin ready for filling in a pumpkin pie and — unhappy thought — computed that each serving of pie contains about 3,000 calories.

Heckling Kosygin Said Like Kicking Grandpa In Shins

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
OTTAWA (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin seems to be bearing up well under the strain of constant harassment by demonstrators. So, apparently, is the public in Canada's capital.

Despite the uproar produced by protesters, the people of Ottawa have managed to appear completely indifferent to it all. But surely there would have been no such indifference if Kosygin were the same sort of diplomatic barnstormer as his predecessor, the late Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Had it been Khrushchev subjected to such harassment, the sparks would have flown in all directions and people would have turned out in droves to watch in awe.

Harassing Kosygin seems somehow like kicking an offensive old grandpa in the shins. He has none of the dynamism that made Khrushchev a magnet for crowds. When anybody heckled Khrushchev, as happened during his stormy tour of the United States in 1959, Khrushchev heckled back with scorching blasts of peasant wit.

Kosygin's personality and background are unsuited to that sort of performance. He came up through the ranks of stolid Communist party "apparatchiks" — functionaries who plodded through their duties faithfully.

Kosygin did get one small break Tuesday night as he was driven to the National Arts Center, only a short distance from his hotel, for a gala concert in his honor.

As usual, demonstrators were gathered, this time dominated by young Maoists and assorted fringe rebels.

The security men had learned their lesson and played a successful game of hide-and-seek with the young protesters. The motorcade avoided the main entrance and entered the building through a parking area, leaving the protesters with no body to protest against.

But the slings and arrows will continue to be aimed at him for the rest of his eight-day trip through Canada. The tour takes him to Montreal Thursday and thereafter to Edmonton, Vancouver and Toronto. Demonstration organizers vow they'll give him no rest.

$30,000 Fund Pays For Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Expenses of the state special grand jury probe into conditions at Lima State Hospital — already in progress — will be paid with $30,000 approved by the State Emergency Board Tuesday.

The board, created to act on funding needs not covered by legislative appropriation, unanimously okayed Atty. Gen. William Brown's request for the money for special counsels, witnesses and court costs.

The special grand jury investigation was ordered by Gov. John Gilligan early in August following reports of mistreatment and abuse of inmates at the state facility for the criminally insane.

IRAKLION, Greece (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew toured the ancient ruins at Knossos today, then viewed the 20th century might of the North Atlantic alliance at a NATO missile base.

Agnew sat on the alabaster throne of King Minos, the legendary monarch of Minoan Crete, then joked that he wasn't quite ready for that.

He spent more than an hour touring the ruins and a museum of Minoan artifacts, guided by Mrs. Eletheria Gavalas, and by Deputy Premier Stylianos Patacos.

The next stop on his day's tour of the islands of Crete and Rhodes was the NATO missile base at Hania, Crete, for a briefing and a view of the missiles there.

Agnew already had received a NATO briefing at the Greek Pentagon in Athens, and the alliance was the only announced subject of some 6½ hours of conferences with Premier George Papadopoulos.

The vice president had a word of praise for the authoritarian Greek regime Tuesday. With Papadopoulos at his side in Gargaliani, Agnew said he has seen "some of the excellent things that are happening in rural Greece" under the present government. He mentioned advances in electrification, education, health and welfare.

Nixon Gives Connally Boost With Viet Trip Assignment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's new foreign-affairs assignment for Treasury Secretary John B. Connally has added another feather to the tall Texan's hat and spurred fresh speculation that Nixon is grooming him as a 1972 running mate.

White House officials disclosed Monday that Nixon has tapped his sole Democratic Cabinet member as his official representative at the Oct. 31 inauguration of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

The officials said, without giving details, that Connally also will visit other countries on his Asian journey. Another source said his itinerary includes a stop in Tokyo for talks with Japanese officials being buffeted by protests over an agreement signed last week cutting Japanese textile shipments to the United States.

But it is the Vietnam visit — a seemingly unusual assignment for a man best known as the chief spokesman for the new Nixon economics — that started the tongues wagging anew about the possibility he might supplant Spiro T. Agnew as Nixon's vice presidential choice.

The intrigue was heightened when it was recalled that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird plans to be in Brussels Oct. 26-28 for a meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization officials, then plans to go to Vietnam the first week in November.

Laird presumably could have been picked to go to Saigon from Brussels to represent the United States when Thieu is sworn in for his second term Oct. 31. But instead, he is returning to the United States for a brief stay before heading to Vietnam.

"There's no interplay," a Nixon aide said when asked about the Laird and Connally trips. This official characterized the Saigon visit as simply one stop in a multi-nation Asian tour being mapped for Connally.

Nixon has refused to discuss his 1972 political plans, and Connally usually brushes aside with a smile any suggestion he is vice presidential timber — a possibility that has even been mentioned by some top Republicans.

"I'm not going to make a comment along those lines at all," says the 54-year-old three-time Texas governor and graduate of the Lyndon B. Johnson school of politics.

Floods Hit Mid-Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Torrential rain storms swamped wide areas of central Texas Tuesday night, spawning tornadoes and flash floods before moving into Oklahoma early today.

The heavily populated Dallas-Fort Worth region was inundated and one woman was reported missing when her car was swept away in a flash flood. Roofs were ripped off four apartment units by a tornado in a Fort Worth suburb; two homes were unroofed at Durant, Okla.

The storm front extended to northwest Lower Michigan where it was accompanied by only scattered showers. High winds and some showers also were reported along the Atlantic coast from Virginia to Florida.

Scattered showers and cool, breezy weather in the Pacific Northwest spread as far east as western Montana. Elsewhere, the nation's skies were generally clear.

Overnight temperatures ranged from 21 at Flagstaff, Ariz., to 82 at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station, Tex.

Wilberforce Open For Boycotters; Few Show Up

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) — Wilberforce University President Rembert Stokes says boycotting students may return to classes any time they are ready.

"The university is open, the students are peaceably on campus and teachers are available to teach," Stokes declared.

Stokes said classes have not been formally canceled, but admitted few students have shown up since the boycott began Monday over suspension of 43 students who participated in a sit-in at a women's dormitory.

Student leaders said Tuesday the boycott by most of the school's 900 students would continue until the suspended students are reinstated.

Japan Rearming

Japan's military posture is as small as it is only because the nation began with virtually none after World War II and kept it much that way for a number of years. But conditions are changing in Japan.

The Japanese military budget increases by 15 to 20 per cent a year, a trend which has made Japan the seventh strongest military power in the world. By the middle of this decade it should move up a notch or two on the scale.

In terms of its gross national product, Japan's outlays for rearmament are not large — about 1 per cent currently.

But the rapid growth of the nation's GNP to a position second only to that of the United States in the non-communist world belies the relationship.

Nor are Japan's Self-Defense Forces (euphemism for constitutionally prohibited military forces) armed only with defensive armaments. The current military budget includes provision for such items as helicopter carriers, Phantom jet fighter-bombers, several missile systems, destroyers and submarines and other sophisticated hardware.

With that record, Japan's emerging militarism is no fantasy.

Time To Play

Whatever happened to those two-handed parlor games which require concentration and a reasonably developed grasp of logic? Games like checkers, chess and some of the word games which challenge some of the basic language mechanics?

Well, according to toy manufacturers they are still going strong. At least sales of the boards and games are, but perhaps it is the sort of thing one buys for another with the result that many of them occupy shelves in the closet.

There is something about a leisurely game, particularly chess, which can both satisfy and fatigue an individual simultaneously. Particularly if it is played before a fire or under a shade tree away from all distractions. If it is savored rather than devoured, chess also is an excellent way of getting to know another person.

Negotiation Splurge

From the rhetoric of an inaugural address, in which Richard Nixon observed, "After a period of confrontation, we are entering an era of negotiation," the world indeed has moved farther into that era.

The SALT talks, the Berlin agreement, the constant movement of leaders on tours of diplomacy — all show a willingness to confer rather than confront. Not all are furthering the cause of world peace.

The Soviet — India pact and the whirlwind tour of Kremlin leaders to East European capitals were designed to bolster the Soviet presence.

There remain awesome voids in the world of negotiation. Between Israel and the Arab states for one, and India and Pakistan for another. But no one predicted even a world of negotiation would be a perfect one.

As for the two largest surprises of all — the upcoming presidential trips to Red China and the Soviet Union — whatever other results may be produced, at least they have boosted the spirit of negotiation. It is much too early to claim the "era of negotiation" has talked the world out of its major dangers. But neither have new ones erupted as a consequence.

Radical Arts Get Applause

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

(KFS) — The arts are doing well in America. But what kind of art is it that gets the money and the footfellow that guarantee success? Leonard Bernstein's new "Mass," which was offered as the piece de resistance at the opening of the $68 million John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, was received with the acclaim that goes to anything that qualifies as "radical chic." However, there was a substantial minority of the critically hep who, respecting traditional catholicism, took the Bernstein opus to be a Twentieth Century version of the Balck Mass as it is featured in Joris-Karl Huysmans' decadent fiction about the Middle Ages. Even the New York Times reviewers, who are ordinarily attuned to anything that is presented as "liberal," lamented the "watery liberalism" and the "basic triviality" of the work. Others called it downright sacrilege.

Meanwhile, much that is good and honest in the arts in America goes struggling along. It so happens that Ted Shawn, who, with Ruth St. Denis, touched off the modern dance in America, celebrates his 80th birthday this week (on October 21, to be exact). I live about an hour's drive from Ted Shawn's Jacob's Pillow dance center at Lee in the Massachusetts Berkshires and, since my wife is of the dance world, I have seen something of Shawn's continuing efforts to keep his theater and his school going. He does it with practically none of the endowment support that goes to the "radical chic," or merely to the fashionably successful. And he is not crying; he tailors his offerings to what the box office will bring, avoiding the big ballet companies that insist on exorbitant fees for celebrated guest artists. What he presents has the integrity of the educated. And there are names of substance among his school faculty, as, for example, Norman Walker, Margaret Craske and Jack Cole.

Jacob's Pillow, which makes use of an old barn and old houses, is a delight to the eye, and one is surprised to learn that much of the working environment is the result of "sweat equity" (some of the masonry, for example, was done by students and staff as a present to Shawn when he was away on a trip). I, for one, think it good for artists to work for their own success. (What government body is competent to discover a Herman Melville while he is struggling to complete a "Moby Dick"?) It is ironical, nonetheless, that the real pioneers of indigenous American art forms get little encouragement from the big foundations, let alone the Congressional committees and state commissions.

Ted Shawn, at 80, deserves some form of accolade. During his collaboration with Ruth St. Denis, his wife, in the Denishawn Company, he helped train virtually all the pioneers who were to create the modern American dance as something distinct from formal European ballet. Martha Graham was among his more famous students and performers. He developed the techniques that were adaptable to distinctive American themes celebrating the past of the American Indian, the Appalachian and Great Plains settlers, the Spanish Conquistadores of the Southwest, the Negro, and the working man on sea and farm and on frontier construction projects. He had been stricken with diptheria when in college, and had to rebuild his body with special exercises after a misapplied serum had left him partly paralyzed. The exercises led him to dancing, and to the creation of special parts for the male dancer that would avoid the conventional prettiness of standard ballet. He has been the prime masculine influence in what had hitherto been an overfeminized world.

In what might be called an offset to Leonard Bernstein's radical chic "Mass," Ted Shawn, who was trained for the ministry, has "danced" some traditionally reverent religious services in church buildings throughout the country. Does this make him irredeemably "square" to the radical chic? Need one ask?

Welfare Outlays Down Slightly In September

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio paid $46,405,250 for all categories of welfare in September, down about $2.4 million from last month, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson announced Tuesday.

Ferguson said the reduction was not reflected in the aid to dependent children program, the largest of all categories of welfare both in numbers of recipients and dollars expended.

He said as in previous months, the ADC expenditures continued to mount, September payments totaling $16,627,814 went to 266,755 recipients, compared with $16,333,651 in payments to 361,038 people in August.

Ferguson said total welfare payments for the first three months of the fiscal year totaled $141,213,610.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have rheumatoid arthritis. I have always wondered how a doctor chooses to treat this condition since so many different kinds are available.

Mrs. W. T., Mich.

Dear Mrs. T.:

Rheumatoid arthritis is a very complicated disease, one that involves bones, joints, cartilages and muscles. Because of its wide ramifications doctors depend upon many clues in the patient's history and upon detailed examination and laboratory studies before choosing the most promising treatment.

An important clue is morning stiffness of the joints and how long before the joints loosen up. The number of involved joints and the amount of fatigue are meaningful. With any complex disease whose origin is still unknown many forms of treatment exist. For this reason the family doctor may seek the advice of he specialist in rheumatology, the orthopedist, and the physiotherapist.

Concentrated doses of aspirin, heat, massage, cortisone, gold salts and anti-malarial drugs are some of the ways to treat this form of arthritis. In specially chosen cases surgery can help give motion to stiffened and deformed joints. Few diseases lend themselves more to exploitation by quack gadgets and "miracle" cures than arthritis. Follow your doctor's advice about "hitherto unknown" cures with "unsolicited testimonials."

The skin between my legs and under my arms gets so irritated I feel like jumping out of my skin. What can I do about it?

Mr. L. W., Ala.

Dear Mr. W.:

The picture you describe is known as intertrigo, commonly referred to as chafing. It is almost always the result of two skin surfaces rubbing together in the presence of warmth and moisture. It commonly happens in the groin, the spaces between the fingers and the arm pits. Obese persons are particularly prone. Burning and itching is most annoying, especially when there are bacterial or fungus complications.

Treatment is devoted to the cause. Dusting powders, reduction of weight, cool clothing and constant personal hygiene are beneficial. Some drugs are available, by prescription, to reduce excessive perspiration.

How long can cortisone be taken with safety?

Mr. B. Y., Kans.

Dear Mr. Y.:

This remarkable product is sometimes used indefinitely for chronic conditions that fail to respond to other forms of treatment. All drugs, simple and complex, have a wider latitude of safety when taken under direction and supervision.

High Court To Hear Suit On Baseball

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to hear Curt Flood's suit against professional baseball and to rule on the sport's immunity from antitrust laws. The former all-star centerfielder, now living somewhere in Europe, has claimed ever since the St. Louis Cardinals traded him in 1969 to the Philadelphia Phillies that baseball's contract violates both state and federal antitrust laws and is a form of slavery. His chief lawyer is former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg.

The court simply announced there was no comment on any of the issues.

The case will be heard sometime later this term.

The target of Flood's attack is the so-called "reserve system," which binds ballplayers to the team that holds their contract.

Baseball has never lost a case in the high court. In 1922, an opinion delivered by Oliver Wendell Holmes, the sport was granted exemption from antitrust regulation. In 1953 the court said any change in this status would be up to Congress. Meanwhile football and all other professional sports were made subject to federal antitrust laws.

Two lower federal courts have ruled against Flood. A decision by the high court is expected by June.

School Data Bank Helps Migrants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is using a nationwide communications network to aid the education of children of migrant farm workers.

Martin Essex, state superintendent of public instructions, said Monday this fall's enrollment of migrant children in Ohio schools has jumped to 4,146, a 33 per cent boost over last year's 3,099 students.

Essex said the communications system, headquartered in Little Rock, Ark., contains information on each migrant school child, allowing easy transfer of pertinent education data on the children as their families move back and forth across the country.

In Ohio, the computer terminal is in Fremont, where most schools providing migrant educational service are located.

"These children are caught in a new economy that is leaping from hand labor to power driven, automated equipment," Essex said.

He said this advancing technology requires "suitable education if self-respecting citizenship is to be attained in their adult lives."

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miss Universe has packed her finery and moved to Puerto Rico. Jackie Gleason's television show with its inviting shots of this tropical playground is just a faded memory.

But Miami Beach officials refuse to be disheartened by the defections.

Nor are they worried by the rival attractions of Walt Disney World, some 200 miles north in the center of the state, which sponsors say is expected to attract some 10 million visitors during its first year.

"We are very optimistic," said Edwin Dean, executive director of the South Florida Hotel and Motel Association. "Bookings for the Christmas period at virtually all Beach hotels and motels are superior to last year's."

Jerry Sussman, executive director of the 620-room Carillon

Hotel, also says bookings for the coming season "look very good indeed."

Sussman's hotel plans to run free bus trips once a week for guests so they can visit Disney World for a day.

"Most people won't want to stay longer than a day at Disney World," said Sussman. "I think Disney World will benefit Miami Beach because it will bring lots of people to Florida who have never visited the state before. Before they leave they will want to see our city."

Hotelmen reported that bookings for the season which starts Dec. 15 began picking up after President Nixon's wage-price freeze announcement in August. "That seemed to restore confidence somehow," said Sussman. "After that, bookings began flooding in."

Allen Robinson, executive director of the city's Tourist Development Authority, says advertising for the coming season will concentrate on Canada and Europe.

"We are going into the international market in a big way," he said. "We already have an office in London and are making arrangements with German travel agencies to bring package tours here."

Robinson denied reports that Miami Beach has been losing its appeal to tourists and said collections from a 2 per cent resort tax proved more money was being spent by visitors than ever before.

The Miss Universe Pageant may be a thing of the past for Miami Beach but far more important in terms of dollars is the Democratic National Convention scheduled here next July.

"That really should keep things rolling," said one official. "People at conventions spend money and this is what the game is all about."

According To Boyle

By WILLIAM L. CHASE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things

that make life worth living:

The quiet courage and loyalty of ordinary men and women leading ordinary lives. Listening to an older person whose reminiscences thrill instead of bore you. Coming upon a love letter written by your father to your mother when they were sweethearts. Getting a two-bit cigar from your boss on your birthday.

The sight of two people, hand in hand, walking across the top of a faraway hill, outlined by a dying sun—human line against the landscape. Overhearing your small son brag to a playmate that he has a father who knows everything and can do anything. Tagging an opposing player out at home plate to prevent a run that would tie the game.

A second cup of hot bean soup for lunch on a wintry day. Seeing how far you can swim underwater while holding your breath as your hammering heart makes echoes in your head. Picking up the sofa pillow after a nap and finding $1.37 in change that leaked from your pocket. Going to a cocktail party and having nine people ask you for one of the seven kittens your cat gave birth to in the kitchen the week before.

Being told by your doctor that a little jogging wouldn't hurt you—and being told by your wife that she wouldn't dream of letting you risk your life doing such a foolish thing at your age.

The sound of an old dog snoring by a fireside, growing deep in his throat as he fights again the forgotten battles of his puppyhood. Putting on the third sweater a maiden aunt has knitted for you and discovering this one fits. Buying a second car that goes three months without even needing its hood lifted.

The taste of cornbread and white gravy made from fried chicken. Winning $30 at poker on Saturday night, placating your wife with $25 of it, and tossing the remaining $5 bill in the church collection plate Sunday morning—so who needs money, anyway? Landing on the green of a 415-yard hole with your second stroke—only three feet from the flag.

A midnight raid on a well-stocked refrigerator. Awakening at dawn to find that most of the troubles that kept you twisting and turning during the night don't even seem worth bothering about now.

Coming upon an old income tax record which shows that you're making twice as much dough as you did 15 years ago—and so what if the government is enjoying it more than you are?

The grateful kiss of a small girl whose woes you have helped by making her silent doll say "Mama" again. Going Halloweening with a group of kids and collecting $13.13 cents for UNICEF.

Walking alone in the autumn woodlands and sensing the eternal thrill of a higher power, which, for every color leaf that falls now, will put a new one in its place come next spring.

Men's Lib Is All Right, Too

DEAR ABBY: How can you tell if a man is a homosexual? My husband's partner (they are CPA's) hired a male secretary. What kind of man would hire a male secretary? And what kind of man would be a secretary?

My husband's partner is a married man and he doesn't seem "faggy," but I've heard that sometimes this doesn't mean anything.

Should I make an issue of this?

I'd like an answer, but please don't use my name.

ANONYMOUS
DEAR ANONYMOUS: You can't tell if a man is a homosexual from his appearance, but if you really think it's your business, why don't you ask him? Homosexuals as a group are honest.

All kinds of men hire male secretaries. And no "special" kind of man pursues secretarial work any more than any special kind of woman does.

And don't make an issue of it. A man who is bright enough to be a CPA can take care of himself.

DEAR ABBY: I was invited to attend the wedding of a girl who works where I started working about a month ago. (I'll call her Rosie.) I accepted. Another co-worker who was also invited asked if we could buy Rosie a wedding present together. I said okay. We bought the gift and had it delivered to Rosie's home.

Both the co-worker and I got a "thank you" note for the "shower gift." We weren't invited to any shower, and the card we enclosed with our present plainly said, "FOR YOUR WEDDING." Well, anybody can make a mistake, so I didn't care about that, but listen to this:

The day before the wedding, Rosie calls me up and asks me NOT to come to her wedding because she "over-invited" and there wasn't enough room. She called the other co-worker and told her the same thing.

Do you think Rosie should have offered to return our gift? Or at least try to patch things up by offering to bring us a piece of wedding cake? Thank you.

"LOST OUT" IN N.J.
DEAR "LOST": Either your friend Rosie has corn flakes where her brains belong, or she became addled by her forthcoming nuptials. Forget it.

DEAR ABBY: My mom likes to have company, and when she knows someone is coming over, she spends the day fixing refreshments.

The problem is that some people do things like the following: Mom had her club over last Thursday, and she made some real fancy sandwiches, chocolate-covered brownies and all kinds of cookies. Well, I wish you could have seen those ladies!

One said, "I can't eat very much because I'm on a diet, but I'd sure like to carry something home to my Herman." (Then she wraps up a whole lunch in a paper napkin.)

Then someone else says, "my Milton loves sweets. Mind if I take him a few?" My mom is too nice to say anything. So the company carries out all the treats. What is your opinion of this?

BUGGED
DEAR BUGGED: If it doesn't bug your mamma, it shouldn't bug you.

DEAR ABBY: May I have the last word about the policy one church had of allowing the preacher exactly one hour in which to deliver his sermon, and if he talked longer, he would be automatically "drowned out" by chimers?

In my opinion, the world has enough Saturday and Sunday Christians, and could certainly use more who practice their religion seven days a week, 24 hours a day.

If I want to pray, I don't want to wait until Saturday or Sunday. It might be too late then.

J.J.O., WAUKEEN, ILL.
What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

THURSDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There is a considerable amount of confusion in your thoughts. You would be wise to spend the day and evening investigating the various proven methods for better understanding people and conditions about you. Keep objective.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be alert to whatever is going on around you so you can improve your situation. Exchange ideas with others. Help them gain their goals and they aid you in yours.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Talking over with associates your joint projects helps all to understand better the integral part each plays in them. Make whatever small changes are necessary in agreements. Keep overall aim foremost in mind.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have much work to do and can get it done well provided you schedule time properly. Give particular attention to detail. Spare time should be devoted to improving both wardrobe and appearance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Recreation is best relegated to the evening, when mate can be with you and you do not overspend. The day hours should be devoted to business. Collect money owed you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Look into new outlets that can also help those who dwell with you to advance, since they are not particularly happy with present position. Get out of ruts. Find new inspiration.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Bussing yourself with that myriad of little tasks that have accumulated will please allies immensely right now. Attend to letter writing. Show you are a fine salesperson, also. Take it easy tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get busy with financial plans to improve your lot in the world and plan to spend less in the days ahead. Sit down with a good advisor and get the data you need. Avoid some person who makes you spend foolishly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take a good look at yourself and see where to make some improvements in your appearance so that others will like you better. Then go after your personal interests with a vengeance. Don't let that close tie undermine you any longer.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have many small preparations to make before you can start on that plan you have which can be very profitable. Get at them early. If you are loyal to one you love, your personal life improves.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan 20) Get all that angling done with good pals if you want your personal aims to materialize properly. No better day than this to gad about in social circles that are worthwhile. Forget those that aren't.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan a better way to handle career obligations so they work out to your satisfaction and that of others as well. You can please a higher-up easily today, too. Show you have ingenuity, imagination.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Being certain to make preparations in fine detail will make that new activity work out more successfully. Any new contacts you make can bring you added data you need. Don't be afraid to ask for it.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those highly intuitive young people who can have a greater success in life than most, provided you train the mind properly at right schools and through right religious channels early. Then the public in general can be helped greatly because your child is in the world, so do not hesitate to give your youngster every opportunity you can while under

President Seeks Economic Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent to Congress Tuesday legislation for the post-freeze anti-inflation efforts, calling for civil as well as criminal penalties, authority to control interest and dividends if needed and setting up a temporary emergency court of appeals to handle wage-price cases.

The President asked for a one-year extension to April 30, 1973 of the Economic Stabilization Act, which provides the power to act to regulate inflationary forces.

Undersecretary of the Treasury Charles Walker said the one-year time limit in no way indicates the length of time that the price-wage controls will remain in effect.

Martha Circle Has Program On Missions

Martha Circle of Community United Methodist Church met Monday evening in the church parlor with Mrs. William Bosworth, Mrs. Victor Ralston, Mrs. Lucy Roush and Mrs. William Spain as hostesses.

Mrs. Maxine Andregg, chairman, opened the meeting with a Bible quiz and conducted the business session. Reports were heard on recent church activities and volunteers were assigned duties for the coming month.

Members are invited to a program at St. Paul Church, Stoutsville, on Oct. 28th at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Sells will be speakers and show slides on their many years of work as missionaries. Those planning to attend will notify Mrs. Fritz Jacobs by Oct. 22nd.

Mrs. Glyn Hoover was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Gunner Musselman, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Charles Wellman who served as moderator for a discussion on missionary service crusades. Mrs. Wellman was assisted by Miss Susan Stuckey, Mrs. Clyde Cook Jr. and Mrs. H. H. Shuttlesworth. All four ladies have visited the foreign mission field and related meaningful experiences. They reviewed the events leading to involvement in the mission program, and displayed literature from several missionary organizations.

The hostesses served refreshments to 14 members and the guest speakers.

BPW Club

Week Observed

The working women of the Circleville area are to be given special recognition Oct. 17-23 as a part of a nationwide observance of National Business Women's Week. This week was initiated in 1928 by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club. It was designed to spotlight the achievements of career women and their contributions to the national economy and social structure. America's working women represent better than one third of the total labor force.

Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club, one of the 188 clubs in the Ohio Federation, has planned visits to local industries to observe stages of professional action for many local women.

"Era Of Responsibility" is the 1971-72 theme for the more than 3,800 Business and Professional Women's Clubs. There is a strong focus on action program such as: legislative action, action to bring world peace, action to promote productive change, and action to raise the status of women.

In his proclamation setting aside National Business and Professional Women's week in Circleville, Mayor Richard Gerhardt said:

"Circleville can be proud that it has the Business and Professional Women's Club which has not only provided inspiration and guidance to its members but also given so much and helped our community so often.

Officers of the local club are Harriet Kaylor, president; Freda Collins, vice president; Peggy Dean, recording secretary; Louise Hill, corresponding secretary and Ruth Hulse, treasurer.

For further information concerning action policies and procedures contact Leora Sayre, public relations chairman.

county and the persons involved in the robbery with the swiftness of the arrest.

HE also recalled a burglary at a restaurant on the edge of town in which he caught two men in the establishment. Two men in a getaway car saw the police make the arrest and fled, but were caught by Chillicothe Police a few minutes later.

List remembered one time stopping a car on South Court Street while Route 23 was still going through Circleville. The young men in the car told police it was impossible to open the boot. A search by List revealed a hidden switch near the rear window of the car which operated the trunk latch. When the trunk was opened, the police discovered not only goods stolen from local homes but from 15 other counties as well.

One of List's most unpleasant tasks came early in his career when he had to enter a home in which the occupant had been dead for a number of hours and the body had begun to decay because of the heat in the home.

And one of the duties of a policeman he least likes to do is notifying next of kin in case of a death in a traffic fatality or for any other reason.

He recalled one time being called by a distraught father who said his daughter planned to commit suicide. List and other members of the department tracked the girl through a light skiff of snow to the Scioto River. Her body was found about a quarter of a mile downstream from where her footprints entered the river. List believed she could not have entered the river more than 45 minutes before police were on the scene.

An interesting armed robbery he recalls occurred at the Rexall Drug Store located on N. Court St. A young girl held a comb in her pocket and told the clerk it was a gun. The girl was later arrested in the American Hotel, right across the street from the drugstore.

"I THINK of Rod as the last of the old timers," chief of Police Robert Temple commented Tuesday. "When he started on the force none of the present staff were here."

"He has been most respected by the public and the other members of the force. Other officers could profit by watching him," Temple noted.

Often the butt of practical jokes by other members of the force, List seldom lost his temper. He is affectionately called Big Daddy by the younger members of the department.

"The guys will really miss him when he is gone. And the residents of the city owe him a debt of gratitude," Temple said of his sergeant.

List was born and spent the first 30 days of his life in an old log cabin near the community of Pherson. He is the son of the late Philip and Pauline List. He attended school at Monroe and Darbyville before the family moved to Columbus. There he attended Barrett Junior High School and South High School.

In 1938 the family returned to the farm near Williamsport. His first job off the farm was with Bill Goodchild. He later worked at Eshelman Mill and at Container Corporation.

IT was while at Container Corporation that List decided to join the police force. His reason — a that time — the police department had the best pension plan of anyplace in Circleville. And his old friend, Turney Ross, played a key role in convincing him to join the force.

Married to the former Effie Alice (Dolly) Wilson, they are the parents of two sons, Phillip and Joseph, both of whom are married.

List's plans for retirement are that he doesn't plan to retire. "I've always worked and I'm not going to sit at home doing nothing," he stated. He plans to get another job as soon as he can.

On Dec. 9, List's birthday, the Fraternal Order of Police plan to "throw one big whingding" for the retiring sergeant.

Local Nurse To Attend ANA Confab

Miss Margaret Goode, R.N., Route 4, has been elected to represent the Ohio Nurses Association (ONA) at the 1972 Biennial Convention of the American Nurses' Association (ANA) in Detroit. The 53 members of the Ohio delegation were named at ONA's Biennial Convention which was held October 10-14, in Cincinnati.

Miss Goode, who is director of nursing service at Grant Hospital, Columbus, will meet with delegates from each of ANA's 53 other constituents at the convention's policy-making sessions. ANA has approximately 200,000 members in the United States and speaks for professional nursing.

ANA's third largest constituent, ONA, has 10,000 members. Nearly 1,000 attended the association's convention which focused on the theme, "Nursing Looks at Patient Rights." ANA President and featured speaker Hildegard Peplau, R.N., Ed. D., discussed "Nursing Intervention for Patient Rights." Dr. Peplau noted that nurses must intensify their efforts to bring about needed changes in the health care delivery system.

Ohio House Panel OKs Sweeping Jobless Law Changes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — After nearly two months in the House Rules Committee, legislation broadening and upgrading Ohio's unemployment compensation laws has finally been cleared for floor action.

An end to the long delay came Tuesday when the 13-member committee agreed to place the measure on the regular legislative calendar Tuesday, Oct. 26.

The bill's principal House sponsor, Rep. Howard Knight, R-13 Fremont, said strong reservations by the Ohio Contractors Association had held the bill back.

Those reservations centered on one provision of the bill making workers on a construction project eligible for benefits if they were idled because of a trade union strike against a single contractor that closes the entire project.

There was no immediate comment from either side on how the dispute had been resolved.

The measure passed the Senate in May on a unanimous vote. The House Agriculture, Commerce and Labor Committee reported it out favorably late in August.

The bill provides:
—Increases in benefits by as much as 25 per cent. Under the revised rates, for example, a

Woman Receives Gala Welcome From Husband

HILLSGROVE, R.I. (AP) — Margot Fitzgerald stepped off a plane at Green Airport Tuesday night after a 10-day visit to Denver, and found a three-piece band, television cameras, a welcoming banner and champagne awaiting her.

"It's nice to be missed," Mrs. Fitzgerald said.

Her husband, Louis C. Fitzgerald, president of an advertising firm, said he did it because "she deserved it—after 30 years."

After all, he said, he had handled airport receptions for former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, "so why not for my wife?"

family of four would receive $84 in weekly benefits, an increase of $18 over the present $64 ceiling.

—Extension of benefit eligibility from the normal 26 weeks to 39 weeks during periods of high national or state unemployment.

—Compliance language with the federal Employment Security Amendments Act of 1970, assuring the state and its unemployed no loss in federal assistance.

—Coverage for the first time for the state's classified employees.

—Annual automatic and upward adjustments in benefits to allow for increases in the cost of living, beginning in July, 1972.

Little floor opposition to the legislation is anticipated.

In other legislative happenings:
—The House State Government Committee recommended for approval a Senate-passed election law reform bill structured to bring Ohio statutes into conformity with recent court rulings. Changes would: shorten of the voter registration deadline from 40 days before an election to 30 days; permit women who marry to notify their local election boards of name change by mail rather than in person; relax requirements for filing absentee ballots.

The bill was amended in committee to require college students to obtain legal residency status from local boards of elections to be able to vote where they go to school. The amendment as it now stands would skirt a recent federal court ruling that a student meets residency requirements if he has lived in the state for six months, and the county and precinct for 40 days.

—The House passed 52-36 a bill to permit a minor to seek out and consent to medical treatment for drug-related problems without the knowledge of his parents. Protection for physicians is written into the bill against technical assault and battery charges for the treatment.

The bill returns to the Senate for consideration of a minor

House amendment before going to the governor for signing.

—Legislation was introduced in the Senate to permit $200 million in bond issue money earmarked for expenditure in fiscal 1973 to be spent during the current biennium.

Administration officials argue that passage of the measure is necessary to enable the state to move ahead with highway projects deferred earlier this year by the governor's austerity program.

Following its afternoon session, the House recessed until next Tuesday to allow some of its members to attend a National Society of State Legislators meeting in Philadelphia.

The Senate meets again today briefly, then plans to join the House in recess until next week.

Kissinger In Peking

BELGRADE (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger arrived in Peking today to make arrangements for President Nixon's visit there, Tanjug, the Yugoslav news agency, reported from the Chinese capital.

The dispatch said there was no arrival ceremony for Nixon's adviser on national security, but about 20 Chinese and about as many automobiles were waiting on the runway when the presidential Boeing 707 jet landed.

It took about 10 minutes for Kissinger and his party to leave the plane. The visiting Americans got into the waiting automobiles and left for the city.

A group of foreign correspondents and some diplomats watched the arrival from about half a mile away. A giant slogan calling on nations of the world to unite against American imperialism was prominently displayed at the airport.

Tanjung's dispatch said the Peking press did not report that Kissinger's arrival was imminent. Instead the People's Daily, the official paper, published two articles attacking American imperialism and Japanese militarism. One of the articles said American and Japanese reactionaries are stepping up a conspiracy to secure the independence of Taiwan but that the conspiracy will never succeed.

Acted On Impulse

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bernard Braxton, a state prison inmate, was taking part in a church skit depicting prison life when he says he "just had this impulse to go home."

Braxton slipped away during intermission but was recaptured after a month's freedom. A judge ordered him to serve an additional six months for jailbreak.

Nye Sees Environment Issue In '72

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Natural Resources Director William Nye said Tuesday he expects the administration to support a state board issue next year for environmental improvements, mainly in sewage treatment, at the local level.

Addressing the 16-member Ohio Farm Bureau Policy Development Committee, Nye said the state has a responsibility to give more help to local governments.

In some small communities, he said, the entire tax duplicate would not be sufficient to cover the cost of a treatment facility.

Another problem of developing adequate treatment facilities, Nye said, is that local government officials are unwilling to charge users enough to cover the cost of operating such a system.

State School Supt. Martin Essex told the committee Ohio should have a uniform, statewide property tax rate along with a personal and corporate income tax.

He said many schools expect increased contributions from the state to continue operating. Without the additional funds, he added, more schools will have to close.

Kim Novak Wins $49,000 In Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Kim Novak accepted a $49,000 Superior Court settlement Tuesday in her $1 million personal injury damage suit against an automobile repair firm.

The 37-year-old actress said she suffered a concussion, cuts and abrasions in 1966 when a car she was driving overturned after a rear wheel came off.

She accused the company, Morgan and Sons, of negligence in failing to properly secure the wheel.

THE PRICE OF GOOD EATING

Good eating and good nutrition need not be expensive, even for meals you plan to serve to guests. A little imagination and planning can turn swiss steak or pot roast into gourmet delights. And you won't be cheating on the nutrition your family needs, because economical cuts of meat contain the same high grade protein and B-vitamins as the more expensive steaks and roasts.

COMPANY POT ROAST WITH APPLE CIDER

3-4 lb. Boneless Pot Roast
 1 Onion, Sliced
 6 Whole Cloves
 Piece Of Gingerroot
 Small Piece Of Cinnamon Stick
 1½ Teaspoons Salt
 2 Cups Apple Cider
 2 Tablespoons Food Club Shortening
 Put beef with onion, seasonings, and cider in a large bowl in the refrigerator. Let marinate overnight. Wipe meat; brown slowly in fat. Add marinade, cover, and simmer over low heat for about 2½ hours, or until meat is tender. Serve with pan juices, or thicken juices for gravy if desired. Makes 9-12 servings.

STUDY — Judging the canned goods display this year is Mrs. Emma Richter from Pittsburg, Pa. She is an experienced canner herself and recalls a time when she was raising her children, that she put up 1,500 glasses of jelly in one season. Here Mrs. Richter gives her observations on a jar of pumpkin to Canned Goods Department Director Mrs. Frank Woodward Jr.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Mild, dry weather was forecast to continue over Ohio through Thursday.

A high pressure near the East Coast dominates the state's weather, while a cold front in the Mississippi Valley Tuesday is forecast to remain north and west of Ohio.

Lows this morning ranged from 45 at Toledo to 57 at Marietta. Highs this afternoon and Thursday were expected to be in the 70s under mostly-sunny skies. Lows tonight will reach the upper 40s and 50s.

Temperatures are forecast to remain above normal through the end of the week.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Partly cloudy and little change in temperature tonight. Lows in upper 40s and 50s. Thursday variable cloudiness. Highs in the 70s.

NORTHWEST INLAND, LAKE SHORE, NORTHEAST INLAND, WEST CENTRAL —

Partly cloudy tonight. Lows in the low to mid 50s. Thursday partly cloudy. Highs in the 70s.

CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL, SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST — Partly cloudy and little change in temperature tonight. Lows in the mid to upper 50s. Thursday considerable cloudiness. Highs in the 70s.

OHIO CASH GRAIN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Dept. of Agri. cash grain prices: No. 2 red wheat mostly unchanged, $1.30-1.38, mostly 1.33-1.34; No. 2 yellow corn unchanged to 2 cents lower, 90-95 mostly 90-91; No. 2 oats mostly unchanged, 62-67, mostly 63-65; soybeans mostly 4 cents higher, 3.00-3.12, mostly 3.00-3.10.

Even Ohio House Chaplain Gets Into Income Tax Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Even the Presbyterian chaplain of the Ohio House of Representatives has gotten involved in the work of the beleaguered House-Senate Conference Committee on taxes and the budget.

Well ... not directly involved, but the Rev. Alvin Duane Smith did enlist some powerful support Tuesday. His opening prayer before the lower chamber:

"Lord! We've tried everything short of a miracle from you to help end our budget and taxing snafu. Now we ask you to grant that miracle required. And please do it soon, 'cause everyone's tired."

The legislative day ended without the miracle.

In fact, some ground was lost.

For one thing, Senate Minority Leader Anthony Calabrese, a Cleveland Democrat, had to cancel a planned party caucus on the tax question because five members of his 13-member delegation were missing.

Calabrese, a member of the conference committee, had intended to open the caucus for frank discussion on which tax approach to follow — a sales tax or income tax — in funding a generally firm budget for the 1971-73 biennium of $8.1 billion.

"They just don't want to be pulled," Calabrese said by way of explanation of the sudden absences.

With the Senate to recess today until next week, that caucus will have to be further postponed.

Democrats, though the minority party, appear to hold the key on the tax issue. A united party would make the passage of an income tax plan possible, with a little Republican help. A divided Democratic party, as it has been over the past six months, would virtually assure the passage of a sales tax boost.

"We can be ready to go in 20 minutes," contends conference committee member Sen. Oakley Collins, R-18 Ironton, once the leadership in both houses of the general assembly provides the direction on the tax issue.

Predictions are that committee work will end sometime next week. Another negotiating session has been planned today.

The state is in its 113th day without permanent funding.

Heart Surgery Technique Uses 'Suspended Animation'

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Surgeons at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston have developed a technique for major open-heart surgery without the use of donor blood.

So far, 27 patients, from the age of 2 weeks to 41 years, have undergone major cardiac surgery under the new procedure, the surgeons told the 57th annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons.

The surgeons turned to a new technique that had been tested on animals when the parents of a 5-year-old boy refused to grant permission for a blood transfusion, which usually was required for open-heart surgery. The parents were Jehovah's Witnesses.

The patient's body is cooled, his blood withdrawn, a blood substitute is infused, leaving the patient in what the doctors described as "a state of suspended animation."

After the operation, the patient's blood is returned to his body.

Dr. Mortimer J. Buckley, chief of cardiac surgery at Massachusetts General, said the patient's blood is removed after anesthesia and placed in a plastic bag containing preservatives.

The blood is replaced temporarily with a liquid called Ringer's Solution, a clear, colorless substance containing sodium, calcium and potassium chloride. The body is cooled with ice and then the surgeon goes ahead.

In the case of the 5-year-old boy, the surgeons successfully repaired his heart defect.

"We feel that this procedure can become quite widespread," Buckley said Monday, "and will make the operation safer and reduce the over-all need for transfusion in the rapidly

Cyclists Plead Guilty In Deaths

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Fourteen hell's Angels who had been charged with first-degree murder in the stabbing deaths of four rival gang members have been permitted to plead guilty to lesser charges of manslaughter.

A source in the Cuyahoga County prosecutor's office said it appeared there was not enough evidence to convict the motorcyclists of murder.

The Angels appeared before Common Pleas Court Judge Frank Gorman Tuesday to enter their pleas. Three of the 14 had surrendered just Tuesday morning after being hunted by police since March 6.

growing field of cardiac surgery."

Buckley said the technique also can be used in other types of surgery, such as hip operations, brain surgery, coronary artery replacements and heart valve replacements.

Five Points News

By Mrs. Francis Furniss

There were 28 present at the United Methodist Sunday School service followed with 51 present. A large crowd attended the turkey supper Saturday evening.

The Monroe Township Advisory Council No. 10 held their October meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Follrod Wednesday evening. The chairman Clyde Michel opened the meeting with roll call by the secretary and the report of the last meeting. The Council Guide Topic, "Imports — Exports — How can we expand export and protect imports?" was read and discussed. At the close of the meeting seasonal refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Elbee Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Follrod. The November meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Furniss.

Laura Long and Mrs. William Riley members of the Five Points WSCS attended the Derby WSCS meeting Wednesday evening at the Derby Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Donohoe of near Washington C. H. were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss.

Mrs. James Jacques of Columbus was the Saturday guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ned Long and attended the turkey supper at Five Points in the evening. Dick and David Long of Columbus were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Long.

Mrs. Dwight Hollow and grandson Matthew Hagler of Washington C. H. accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCafferty to Columbus on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Long and daughter Loretta Sue were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rogers and sons of near Frankfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Marshall of Jacktown and David Shaw were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Kern and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Markley were Sunday evening callers at

Road Safety Plans Laid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) A new traffic safety program to study high-frequency accident locations in the state, was announced Tuesday by J. Phillip Richley, state highway director.

The department will hire an assistant traffic engineer in charge of safety and a technical assistant in each field division.

Richley said "We hope that this ambitious new program of identifying high-frequency accident locations and engineering service inadequacies will help to eliminate death and injuries on our streets and roads."

He said because of lack of funds positions will only be filled in six divisions this year. They are Bowling Green, Ashland, Ravenna, Delaware, Lebanon and Cleveland.

This year, Richley said, the program will be financed with $440,000 in federal funds.

Appalachian Highway Link Opens Friday

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. said today the final segment of the 63-mile stretch of Appalachian Highway Corridor "D" between Clarksburg and Parkersburg will be open to traffic on Friday afternoon.

Moore will cut the ribbon at ceremonies opening the remaining 9.9-mile section immediately following a luncheon sponsored by the West Union Women's Club at West Union in Doddridge County.

"The impact this highway has had on the economy of the northcentral part of the state has been tremendous," Moore said today. "The opening of this new segment completes the continuous route between Parkersburg and a point within eight miles of the Clarksburg beltway."

The new segment cost $20.5 million and brings the total of completed Appalachian Highway sections open to traffic to 80 miles.

Tourists spent an estimated $542 million in Kentucky last year, a new high.

the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schobert.

Mrs. Shirley Anderson was the Saturday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts of near Newport.

Mrs. Robert Morgan and children were Sunday afternoon guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Long.

Logan Elm School News

New Teacher Is Native Of Illinois

One of Logan Elm's new teachers this year is Miss Carol Abrahamson. Miss Abrahamson was born on the north side of Chicago in Illinois. She now resides in Columbus at 879-FE E. Granville Road.

Miss Abrahamson attended Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware. She graduated last year, after going through college in a three year program. The reason she gave for the short program was her desire to "get started and do something in this world." While at college Miss Abrahamson majored in English and psychology.

CAROL ABRAHAMSON
English Teacher

Miss Abrahamson's hobbies, which reveal both sides of her bubbling personality, are cooking, sewing, and listening to hard rock. Her other activities outside of Logan Elm consist of going on movie dates, playing bridge, canoeing and modern dancing.

Before she came to Logan Elm, Miss Abrahamson taught at Delaware High School, but has no other experience. Here she teaches primarily Sophomore English. She also has a freshman English class and home room and in charge of the Drama Club. Miss Abrahamson is now in the process of starting a literary club for students who will be going to college. These students will encounter and have to read many different kinds of books.

When Miss Abrahamson was asked what she thought of Logan Elm and its students she replied, "I really like it. Everybody has been terrific and has time to listen to a new idea."

New Senior Hails From Westfall

MARY BIALY

A new student at Logan Elm this year is senior Mary Bialy. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bialy of Route 3, Circleville. A former Westfall student, she is enrolled in the BOE course of study.

Her interests are sewing, cooking and preparing for her June wedding. Mary believes that Logan Elm offers a better educational program for girls who enter the field of secretarial work.

Yearbook Editors Attend Workshop

On Oct. 6, yearbook editors Nedra Dresbach and Yvonne Wiggins, along with adviser Steve Barney, traveled to the Scott's Inn in Columbus to attend a workshop sponsored by the Taylor Publishing Company.

Up-to-date ideas on layout and design were presented by the regional representative. Lunch was served and then workshopers spent an afternoon learning selling techniques. Many such workshops are presented each year in various locations throughout Ohio.

Name September Honored Students

JANENE BOGGS

DAVE CONLEY

This past week, the Student of the Month Committee chose Jeanene Boggs and Dave Conley as the Students of the Month for September. Both are seniors.

Jeanene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd R. Boggs and resides at Route 1, Laurelville. Her likes include all types of music, daisies and going for walks. Her only dislike is lima beans.

Jeanene's hobbies are horseback riding, bowling, cooking and sewing. Being editor of the Elm Log keeps Jeanene very busy as well as being a member of BBC, Drama Club and an office worker.

Dave resides with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Hargus Conley at Route 1, Stoutsville. He is a member of FCA, Varsity Club, baseball team, National Honor Society, Soil Savers 4-H Club, Junior Leaders, Scholarship team and the bowling team.

Dave lists Gremlins, week-ends, hamburgers and french fries as his likes. His dislikes consist of Mondays and being forced to eat raw eggs.

Six Are Named To Freshman Cheering Unit At Logan Elm

On Sept. 29 after school, six spirited girls were elected to fill the positions for freshman cheerleader.

Pam Martin of Route 1, Circleville, is one of the cheerers. She lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Martin. When selected her reaction was "I don't believe it!"

Pam's likes are root beer and playing tackle football on week-ends. Her dislikes are wearing shoes and snobby people. Her hobbies are swimming, and learning to ride horses. Pam thinks it will be a real blast cheering for the frosh this year.

Mary Evans lives at Route 4, Circleville, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Evans. Her reaction when chosen was "I cried and I laughed." Mary's hobbies are sewing, art and swimming. Her likes are 7-Up in a paper cup and animals. Her dislikes are snobs and homework. Mary thinks the group that she will be cheering with is really great.

Laurie May lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger May, at Route 1, Circleville. Her hobbies are swimming, talking on the phone, and her 4-H pigs. She likes movies with happy endings and all sports. Laurie's dislikes are stuck-up people, staying at home, and losing all our football games. She thinks the freshman cheerleaders will have a lot of fun because they are all good friends.

Kim Parmer of Route 1, Kingston, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Parmer. Her reaction was "Really happy! I was!"

Sewing, swimming, and talking are her hobbies. Kim likes Wurtie and sad movies. She dislikes stuck-up people, losing football games, and hard tests. Kim thinks they'll all have a blast and hopes they win a lot of games.

Nanci Cave lives at Route 4, Circleville, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Cave, Jr. Her reaction was "I was so happy and I was really surprised!"

Her hobbies are swimming, football, and making people laugh. Nanci likes food, telling stupid jokes, and parties. Her dislikes are conceited people, people that argue a lot, and cheat. She thinks that along with the fun that the frosh will

GAA Prepares Year's Activity

First meeting of the GAA was held Oct. 4, after school in the Exchange building gymnasium. The meeting was mainly organizational and the 1971-72 officers were chosen.

New officers are: president, Susan Reichelderfer; vice-president, Joyce Delong; treasurer, Sheryl Quince; secretary, Lynda Sykes; news reporter, Jane McAfee; and student council representatives Hope Justice and Shelley May.

GAA hopes to have many activities this coming year, including a pizza party, hayride, father-daughter basketball game, mother-daughter banquet, and a hike at Old Man's Cave.

Jr. High Football Team Shows Win

Logan Elm Junior High School began its 1971 football season Oct. 2 with a 28-6 victory over visiting Westfall.

The boys are building a fine team under the direction of the new coach, Harry Hoffer, who is a seventh grade English teacher at the Exchange building. On Oct. 9, the Little Braves were defeated by a strong Amanda team 36-6. The next game for the Logan Elm Jr. High will be at Teays Valley on Oct. 21.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC pulled together a very pleasant hour of circus acts for a Tuesday night special.

The circus was shot in Copenhagen and concentrated on activity in a rather small ring. There was the usual assortment of acrobats, jugglers, trapeze and wire artists. There were also dog and horse acts, but since Danish law forbids wild animal acts, the producers sent a camera crew to Italy for shots of a tamer and his tigers.

There was the usual brassy music and drum rolls. And Ed McMahon was around providing some language translations. English could have done the job since Big Ed was disguised in a clown outfit.

"Cannon" revisited after a month reveals that the series still specializes in corpses. There were two killings before midshow and six more by the end.

Our hero, that tough private investigator, will be a mass of scar tissue by season's end. He was shot in the leg in the first show and this week took a bullet in his arm.

Aside from the excessive violence, the CBS hour stacks up as about the slickest, tightest series among the new action shows. Considerable imagination was shown in the use of location backgrounds, infinitely more effective than the usual studio back-lot shots.

The most recent episode had Cannon on the trail of some robbers and $900,000. It led him to a desolate ghost town whose few residents just wanted him to go away, dead or alive and preferably the former. The intrepid private eye blew his assignment: He shot down a small plane in which the heavies were escaping with the loot, and the money burned in the crash.

"Marcus Welby, M.D." on ABC launched a two-part drama, the story of a girl with a bad heart and a widower father too protective of her. The father shot and killed a neighbor boy who, in response to an appeal by the girl, had come to see her late at night.

Dr. Welby didn't have much to do except look worried and give the girl injections. Even an operating room scene with the dying boy seemed padding since the story was melodrama and a departure for the doctor show.

At fade-out, Owen Marshall, counselor-at-law, had arrived from his own ABC series to stand by as his old friend, the father, was charged with homicide. The trial will take place and the story concluded Thursday night back on the lawyer show.

Dedicated Police Officer Spends Vacations Learning

CINCINNATI (AP) — Veteran policeman Paul Guthrie can't seem to stay away from his field of work. He even spends his vacations visiting police departments outside of Cincinnati.

"It's not imperative that I take a rest—to me, police work is my life," said Guthrie, a sergeant on the Cincinnati Vice Squad. "You're required to take a vacation, so I spend mine learning about police departments and their problems."

Guthrie has just returned from his four weeks of vacation this year—a trip to England to visit bobbies assigned to Scotland Yard in London. The previous three years, he took his entire four weeks of vacation to visit police departments in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Salt Lake City.

Guthrie, a 38-year-old bachelor and 15-year veteran of the police force here, works an 8 p.m. to 4 a.m. shift. He makes a large number of arrests on that shift and often winds up testifying in court during morning hours when he is scheduled to be off.

And on his off days, he frequently is seen at detective headquarters here.

As for the trip to England, Guthrie said he was interested in the way drug problems are dealt with.

"In England, if you register as a drug addict, you can get a prescription for addictive drugs like heroin, cocaine, methone, etc.," he said. "The drugs are free under the National Health Act, all you have to pay is 20 pence (about 45 cents) to the pharmacist for filling the prescription."

He said if registered addicts are found with more drugs than permitted, or if persons who do not register as addicts are caught, they can be prosecuted.

He said that despite the idea to make drugs cheap and readily available to addicts and therefore cut down on crimes, "many of the policemen I talked to over there don't think the system is doing what it's supposed to."

Area Teams In League Tilts

Teays Valley will host Dublin in a Metropolitan League clash and Scioto Valley Conference action will find Westfall at home to Unioto and Logan Elm at Piketon.

The Vikings, 2-4, with two losses in league play will be acting the role of spoilers when they tangle with Dublin, 5-1.

"Our kids are working hard and will be ready for Dublin," Viking Coach Dick Kidwell commented. "We made too many mistakes last week and will not make the same mistakes this week." Kidwell continued.

Dublin has a good running game with a veteran backfield. Frank Bohanan and Dave Perdue are a pair of fast stepping halfbacks. The Shamrocks have a fine passer and can go to the air if necessary.

THEY operate from a Slot T with a lot of motion. On defense they employ a wide tackle 6-2 and are quick and aggressive.

Teays Valley has lost Jim Logsdon for the season with a shoulder injury but the rest of the squad will be ready to go Friday night.

On offense the Vikings will have Chris Brenton at tight end and Mike Pettibone at the split end slot.

Jim Pabst and Jack Brinker will be the tackles with Howard Reed at one guard and Tony Archer and George Hardbarger alternating at the other.

Jim Pritchard will handle the ball snapping duties.

Terry Lambert will be at quarterback, Roy Good at half, Dale Harris at tailback and Ken Stewart at fullback.

PABST and Brinker will be the defensive ends, Steve Gray and Reed the tackles and Terry McDaniel the middle guard.

Jerry Sabine and Jim Williamson will be the line-backers with Hardbarger the monster man.

Elmer Hines, Jeff Beatty and either Pettibone or Chuck Glitt will round out the secondary.

"Our kids have been hard at it this week," Mustang Coach Bill Vance stated, "and we are in the best shape this year. The boys are in good spirits and ready to play."

Unioto, 4-2, has a big team with good speed at the half-backs. They use a prototype offense and like to run at the opponent. They are a solid defensive team and utilize a 4-4 on defense.

The Shermans two losses came at the hands of Hillsboro and Adena.

WESTFALL will use Jerry Smith and Randy Metzger at the ends and Joe Jude and John Greene at the tackles.

Artie Dick and Danny Lett will be the guards with Randy Long at center.

Larry Adams will call the signals, Dave Shannon and Gary Underwood will be the halfbacks with Larry Harris at fullback.

Long and Jim Akison will be the defensive ends, Walter Garland and Eric Rickabaugh the tackles and Harris the middle guard.

Dick and Jude will man the linebacker posts with Adams, Lett, Gary Underwood and Shannon making up the secondary.

For the first time this year Logan Elm will field a healthy squad when they meet Piketon on the Red Streaks Field.

THE Braves are ready and will be out to upset the Piketon squad.

Logan Elm will go with the same lineup they used last week in an attempt to continue its winning ways.

TV Runners Place Second In Metro Meet

Teays Valley's cross country team finished second to Dublin in the Metropolitan League meet Tuesday at Upper Lansdowne.

Dublin had a total of 31 points to nip the Vikings who had 35 points. Franklin Heights was third with 55 and Hamilton Township finished fourth with 118.

The Viking's Bob Smith was first with a time of 10:35, Fred Rice, fourth, 11:43; Terry Figgins, seventh, 11:59; Mark Wellman, ninth, 12:08; Steve Bumgarner, 14th, 12:14; and Terry Lockhard, 22nd, 12:21.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Snippy Choice, driven by Marsha Moffitt, paid $43.20 to win the ninth race at Lebanon Raceway Tuesday night and combined with J R Dream for a $267.20 perfecta.

Gave Dream captured the featured eighth race and returned $7.40, $4.40 and $3.20. Hi Sady, which led most of the mile, placed for $5 and $3.20 and showing was Sand Wedge for $2.60. Time for the mile was 2:07.35.

Honest Leo and Kaboodle hooked up for a $58.80 daily double.

Westfall Changes Parents Night

Westfall's parents night, originally set for Friday night, has been postponed until the Westfall-Adena clash on Nov. 5. The change was made due to other confliotions.

Alston Named NL Manager Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Venable Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who says, "I can't think of anything I'd rather do than manage," was named today as The Associated Press' Manager of the Year in the National League for the fifth time.

The 59-year-old Alston, in his 18th season as manager of the Dodgers, piloted Los Angeles to a second-place finish in the NL's West Division. Los Angeles wound up one game behind the Giants by eight games going into the final month of the season.

Alston, whose 18 consecutive seasons with the same club is tops among active major league managers, received 72 votes from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Charlie Fox, in his first full season as San Francisco manager, was a close second with 65 votes. Danny Murtaugh, the 1970 Manager of the Year who led the Pittsburgh Pirates to this year's World Series championship was third with 57 votes. The voting was based only on regular season performances.

The Dodgers' skipper, however, paid tribute to Murtaugh's effort. "That guy in Pittsburgh did quite a job," said Alston from his home in Darrtown, Ohio.

But the Dodgers' pilot also was grateful to receive the award again. "It's quite an honor," he said. "I really appreciate it."

Alston also was named NL Manager of the Year in 1955, 1959, 1965 and 1966, all seasons in which he guided the Dodgers to the league championship. He also took them to the NL title in 1956 and 1963.

Asked about the Dodgers' near-miss this year, he said, "We were all disappointed that we didn't win after getting so close. But you've got to give the players credit, from the youngest rookie to the oldest veteran. Nobody quit. They all gave 100 per cent, and that's all I could ask."

Alston, a former school teacher, has been working on one-year contracts since he succeeded Charlie Dressen as Dodgers' manager in 1954. Apparently that's the way he wants it. "I'm satisfied, and I hope they are," he said.

Dick Williams of the Oakland Athletics was named earlier in the week as American League Manager of the Year.

Manning Named Tops On Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — "I have the greatest respect for Dallas' defensive unit," Archie Manning said.

Perhaps the defensive unit didn't have quite enough respect for Archie. New Orleans' rookie quarterback, taking full advantage of Dallas mistakes, personally ran and passed the Saints to 24-14 upset of the powerful Cowboys.

His two touchdown scampers and a 29-yard scoring strike to running back Tony Baker gave the Saints all the points they needed Sunday and, as a result, gave Manning the nod today as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The flashy 6-foot-3, 204-pounder from Ole Miss, New Orleans' No. 1 draft choice last winter, edged out wide receiver Otis Taylor of Kansas City, running back Bo Scott of Cleveland and quarterback Bob Griese of Miami.

Dolph, Boryla Clash Over Player Signing

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — American Basketball Association Commissioner Jack Dolph threatened the Utah Stars and General Manager Vince Boryla with suspensions and disenfranchisement for Boryla's criticism of Dolph at a news conference Tuesday.

Boryla, commenting on Dolph's decision to fine the Stars $5,000 and a first-round draft choice for signing former Memphis guard James Jones, said, "Dolph isn't qualified to run a kindergarten class."

Trevino, Casper Head Field In $150,000 Kaiser Open

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Lee Trevino and a determined Billy Casper head a bulky field of 156 players as the pro golf tour resumes after a three week break Thursday with the $150,000 Kaiser International Open golf tournament.

Trevino, who suddenly emerged as the dominant figure in the game this year, was scheduled to make a late arrival at the Silverado Country Club course, but the slump-ridden Casper showed up early to get in some practice rounds.

Jack Nicklaus, the No. 1 money winner with over $207,000 this season, Arnold Palmer and South African Gary Player all are skipping this event. Thus, the flamboyant Trevino is easily the No. 1 gate attraction for this event in the northern California wine country.

And he makes no bones about his aim of overtaking Nicklaus for the money title. Trevino has $197,000.

"I think if I could win the money title, I'd have a good chance of winning the Hickock belt (as the professional athlete of the year). That's something I'd really like to have," he said earlier this season.

But Trevino has had his troubles in recent months. He had some personal problems, was sidelined for a while with an emergency appendectomy and has won less than $1,000 official money since making his lightning sweep of the United States, Canadian and British Open titles.

The 40-year-old Casper, Player of the Year in 1970, hasn't won so far this season. It's the first time since 1956 that a year has one by without a Casper victory.

"I'm probably a little more determined than I've been in the past," said Casper, winner of 44 tour titles including two U.S. Open championships. He lost in a playoff for the 1969 Kaiser title and missed the cut last year.

Predict Nebraska Grid Victory

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — This week it looks like the Associated Press' top ten teams will keep on winning.

Nebraska at Oklahoma State—State's Floyd Gass says the Cowpokes will "play well against Nebraska," but he didn't say which year. The fine sophomores may be in over their heads against the Cornhuskers, ranked by the AP as the best team in the nation. Gass isn't from Brooklyn but wait 'til next year, anyway. NEBRASKA.

Oklahoma at Kansas State—Everything may be up to date in Kansas City but things aren't even up to last year at Kansas State, when the Wildcats knocked off ... OKLAHOMA. Michigan at Minnesota—Illinois just got through playing Ohio State and Michigan. Now it's Minnesota's turn to tangle with Michigan and Ohio State. MICHIGAN.

Houston at Alabama—Bear — Bryant is running Bill Yeoman's triple option disguised as the Wishbone. An upset is possible, such as last year's 30-21 'Bama victory over the favored Cougars. Surprise, surprise? No. ALABAMA.

Clemson at Auburn—Clemson has come alive the last two weeks but the reincarnation has to stop somewhere. Hold That Tiger is the theme, since both teams are nicknamed Tigers. Doing the legal holding ... AUBURN.

Southern California at Notre Dame—The Irish were 10-1 last season and the 1 was named Southern Cal to the tune of 38-28. It cost Notre Dame the national championship and, even though there's a freeze on, the Trojans will pay through the nose. NOTRE DAME.

Texas Christian at Penn State—The Christians and the Lions? Have mercy ... PENN STATE.

Wisconsin at Ohio State—Badgers are on the rise and Buckeyes are hurting. That, however, is when Woody Hayes is most dangerous. Besides, how many times in one year can the Buckeyes lose in Columbus? OHIO STATE.

Arizona State at New Mexico—Both teams may have been looking ahead last week to this Western Athletic Conference showdown when the Sun Devils lost to Oregon State and New Mexico tied San Jose State. Frank Kush is one of the winningest coaches around. Add one win. ARIZONA STATE.

Wake Forest at North Carolina—Bill Dooley was awed by Notre Dame's defense last week. This week he gets a taste of offense as supplied by ... WAKE FOREST.

Oregon State at Washington—The Beavers have had their fling and the Huskies have had their slump. WASHINGTON.

Lakers Win 3rd In Row; Defeat Braves, 123-106

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers never have won a National Basketball Association championship since moving to the West Coast from Minneapolis in 1961, although they have three of the league's all-time superstars in Elgin Baylor, Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West.

Now, they have added a fourth star—and he may make the Lakers shine more than ever.

The latest star on the club is Coach Bill Sharman, who guided the Utah Stars to last season's American Basketball Association championship.

Sharman, a former outstanding player with the Boston Celtics, has seen the Lakers produce three glittering performances in their first three games. The latest was a 123-106 romp over the Buffalo Braves Tuesday night.

In other NBA games, Milwaukee blitzed Cleveland 116-82, Seattle edged Cincinnati 101-100, New York dined Golden State 93-84, Boston trounced Baltimore 134-114, and Detroit nipped Portland 101-99.

In the ABA, it was New York 125, Pittsburgh 120; Utah 150, Carolina 93, and Indiana 122, Denver 117.

Sharman, trying to accomplish what neither Bill van Breda Kolff nor Joe Mullaney could do since Chamberlain joined the team in 1969, has led the Lakers to victories by 29 points over Detroit, 15 over New York and 17 over Buffalo. What has made his job easier is having his big three together in each game. In the previous two seasons, Baylor, Chamberlain and West had played together in only 13 games because of injuries.

Against the Braves, Chamberlain collected 20 points, West had 18 and Baylor contributed 14. Gail Goodrich led the balanced Los Angeles attack with 24 points.

Rookie Elmore Smith topped Buffalo with 20 points in 22 minutes but fouled out with 8:04 remaining.

Milwaukee's unbeaten defending champions raced to a 35-12 first-quarter lead against Cleveland and coasted to their fourth victory. Kareem Jabbar, formerly Lew Alcindor, paced the Bucks with 24 points. Bobby Smith topped Cleveland with 26.

Football Coach's Family Finds Price Of Success High

By GEORGE STRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — When 10-year-old Linda Murphy plots a new play, the University of Toledo football coach listens.

To keep peace in the family, Jack Murphy better listen. Linda is one of four children and the fifth grader already prides herself as an expert.

"She gave her dad a play just the other day," her mother Carol recalled. "She called it a quarterback option. 'Take it to the coaches,' she ordered Jack."

With or without his family's help, Murphy has the Mid-American Conference champions victory streak up to 29 games, longest in the nation and fourth best in modern history.

Besides Linda, the Murphy family includes Karen, 16; John Jr., 15, and Timothy David, two months.

"Timothy David. Get it?"

asked Carol. "TD Murphy. Jack named him this summer." A year ago Murphy coached Heidelberg, a low-keyed college division team in Tiffin, an Ohio city of 21,000. Now, it's the national spotlight. The Rockets and a metropolis of 320,000.

"I'm just thankful for last year. It was very relaxing. There's a radical change this season, especially in Jack the day of the game," said his wife.

"He just eats a few bites all day. I notice I'm eating less, too. Now it's even affecting our 16-year-old. Each game it gets worse," said Mrs. Murphy.

"Jack usually plays the upcoming game all night Thursday and loses sleep. Friday he's so tired he has to sleep. No, he doesn't have ulcers and he won't take a pill. He makes me so mad," Carol said.

Well, does the wife of the coach take pills for her nerves? "No, I don't either," she answered sheepishly.

She calls her life exciting and says she wouldn't change it. However, she had doubts when Toledo trailed Western Michigan 21-7 in the third quarter last week. The Rockets eventually won 35-24.

"I told a friend at the game I would try to talk Jack into doing something else. There must be a better way. I was never so scared and afraid in my life," she said.

The Murphys test their frayed nerves again Saturday night when they will be in the stands cheering Dad's team on against visiting Dayton.

Pick Joe Ferguson As Top College Back

NEW YORK (AP) — "The single greatest performance by a quarterback against quality opposition I've ever seen."

Wouldn't you say that's a Back of the Week recommendation? The quote comes from Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas and the object of his affection is Joe Ferguson, who passed, ran and directed the Razorbacks to their so-called Revenge at the Rock (little Rock) Saturday, a 31-7 whumping of arch-rival Texas.

All the 6-foot-2, 175-pound junior quarterback from Shreveport, La., did was complete 14 of 24 passes for 249 yards and three touchdowns and run 10 yards for another score, which happened to be the one that broke a 7-7 tie and put Arkansas ahead to stay.

Utah Stars Stop Cougars; Win 150-93

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Utah Stars, who won the American Basketball Association championship last season, are picking up where they left off.

The Stars boasting a new coach this year in LaDell Anderson, whipped the Carolina Cougars 150-93 Tuesday night for their third straight victory in as many outings.

In other games, Indiana kept pace with Utah in the West Division with a 122-117 victory over Denver and New York turned back Pittsburgh 125-120.

Utah finished in second place in the West last season, one game behind Indiana but went on to win the playoffs from Kentucky in seven games. Anderson has taken over as coach, succeeding Bill Sharman.

The Stars set a pair of team scoring records against Carolina. The 150 points were a club high. Zelmo Beaty topped the Stars with 26 points as seven Utah players reached double scoring figures. Larry Miller was high for Carolina with 17.

Indiana also ran its record to 3-0 as Roger Brown snapped a 115-all tie with Denver, connecting for a pair of baskets with less than two minutes remaining.

Brown went 13-for-13 from the field and 6-for-6 from the foul line in spearheading the Pacers with 35 points. Ralph Simpson sparked the Rockets with 34.

Bill Melchionni collected 32 points and Rick Barry contributed 30 in the Nets' verdict over Pittsburgh. George Carter led the Condors with 33 and John Brisker added 32.

Barry sprained his ankle in the final minute of the game but a team spokesman said the injury was not believed serious.

Canucks Defeat St. Louis, 3-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Coach Hal Laycoe of the expansion Vancouver Canucks of the National Hockey League had praise for a tight defensive effort Tuesday night after the Canucks won their second straight road game by downing the St. Louis Blues 3-1.

"Our defense, with the exception of the first period at California has been playing well. We knew we had to cut down on our goals against us when we went to camp this year, and we probably stressed defense a little more," Laycoe said.

Vancouver took advantage of first and second period scores by Mike Corrigan and a second period goal by former Blues' player Wayne Maki as almost 18,000 fans looked on at the St. Louis Arena.

Pardee Is Named Top On Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I like to carry the ball," said Jack Pardee. "But I should have gotten a lot more return yardage than I did."

Pardee, Washington Redskins linebacker, isn't the primary target when the opposing quarterback throws the ball, but last Sunday he caught three St. Louis Cardinal passes—just one less than the Cards' top receiver—as Washington scored a 20-0 victory.

For his three interceptions and his leadership of the tough Redskins defense, Pardee was named national Football League Defensive Player of the Week Tuesday.

Congress Eyes Curbs On Nixon Economic Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is speeding consideration of President Nixon's Phase 2 economic measures, but is under pressure to set some limits on future authority to freeze wages and prices.

Nixon sent his proposals to the Capitol Tuesday, including an extension of control powers until April 30, 1973; legislative underpinning for the proposed Pay and Board and Price Commission, standby authority to control interest and dividends and a temporary special court of appeals.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said the House Banking Committee will open hearings Thursday—and will want to explore carefully some of the proposals. One question, he said, is whether Congress will grant a full year's extension of control powers, or set a time limit that would permit earlier review.

The Senate Banking Committee set Nov. 1 for the beginning of hearings, its second-ranking Democratic member, Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin, said it should consider writing into the law a requirement that previously negotiated step increase in wages should go into effect after the current 90-day freeze expires Nov. 13.

Proxmire, who is also chairman of the Senate-Economic Committee, said he is studying means of exempting workers below the poverty level from any provisions that would prevent their receiving pay increases.

He said Congress should not now extend freeze authority beyond April 30, 1972, but should reconsider the matter next spring.

However, in discussing the request for a full year's extension with newsmen, Treasury Undersecretary Charles Walker said this period is not intended to indicate the length of time controls will remain in effect. He said they will be continued as long as necessary to break inflation and make gains toward bringing down the cost of living.

In addition to the extension, Nixon asked that the heads of the two key boards, still to be named, be made federal officials with subpoena powers.

He proposed new civil penalties for violations—$2,500 in addition to the $5,000 fine provided by present law.

His proposed court of appeals would consist of three or more federal judges, named by the U.S. chief justice.

The proposed legislation also would ratify actions already taken under the freeze, including orders issued by the Cost of Living Council.

Patman proposed that all members of the Pay Board and Price Commission be subject to Senate confirmation.

Woman Runs Lift Truck In Family Building Firm

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Where regulations call for a two-man crew on crane operations, the B&B Construction Co. gets away with one.

But it's all legal, because the pilot of the lift truck which holds steel joists for Bernard Ellinger's crane is Bertha Ellinger, his wife and the other "B" in the company title.

The two have been operating as a steel construction team for three years, mainly as a result of Bertha's desire to save money—and her family's laughter when she first suggested donning a hard hat.

Now that she's there, she'll be hard to get rid of. "I own the equipment," she said as she pulled a stool up to a drafting table at the Westwood Shopping Center construction site.

Her three sons and son-in-law also are involved in the business, based in Kalamazoo.

Bertha had to overcome more than her family's skepticism, however.

Although she had "tended welders and lifted buckets," the union which had to license her was unwilling to accept her until she worked a year under union supervision on a sub-contracting job.

"I wouldn't go away," Bertha said. "They told me I was a female. I told him it was my equipment and that I was going to operate it."

She said at least one other woman in the state has qualified for the work since a union representative gave her an operator's license.

Although she weighs only 118 pounds and her feet barely reach the truck pedals, Bertha has encountered little resentment from her male co-workers.

"They've never knocked me," she said. "They know why I'm here."

Vatican Panel Attacks U.S. Foreign Policy

Trade, Vietnam
Stands Lashed
By Commission

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Vatican commission attacked the U.S. government today for its recent unilateral changes in the financial system and voiced support for those who refuse to fight for the United States in Vietnam.

The Pontifical Commission on Justice and Peace, in a document submitted to the World Synod of Roman Catholic Bishops, urged the synod to deplore recent "monetary decisions taken by some rich countries which involve the well being and the development of 2 billion persons" in poor countries.

The 64-point message also called on the synod to support those who "refuse to participate in certain wars or certain acts of war, such as the bombardment of civil populations."

It called for "understanding of those who, in the name of their faith or their conscience, refuse to bear arms."

Although neither clause mentioned the United States by name, its intent was clear.

The message also condemned colonialism and neocolonialism, racial discrimination, particularly in South Africa, and increasing armaments and nationalism.

The outline of recommended policy positions was submitted to the assembly of 209 bishops as they took up their month-long meeting, social justice. During the first two weeks of the synod the bishops discussed problems of the priesthood, recording massive opposition to the ordination of married men but strong support for acceptance of priests who marry as "laymen in good standing."

Minutes later a patrolling police helicopter was hit by what Barger termed automatic weapons fire. The craft made a forced landing at Memphis International Airport, about four miles away. No injuries were reported.

Police said there were also reports of other shooting, rock-throwing and arson.

Suspensions were ordered Monday by Police Chief Henry Lux for all city officers connected with the Hayes case including some supervisors who were not at the scene.

Fire Dispatcher Wins Dismissal Of Hair Charges

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A radio dispatcher for the Covington fire department has won dismissal of charge of failing to comply with an order to cut his hair to a certain length.

Covington City Commissioners considered the case about five minutes Tuesday night before dismissing the charge against Greg Butler.

Fire Chief James Ruth ordered Butler to have his hair cut and combed so that it would be out of the eyes, off the ears and tapered at the neck and sides. Ruth said he issued the order for safety reasons.

Butler had also been charged with failure to comply with an order to stop wearing a wig while on duty. That charge was also dismissed.

Major Water Pollution Bill OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Public Works Committee has turned out a tough new pollution-fighting bill aimed at stopping waste discharge in all U.S. waters within 14 years.

Up to now, the aim of pollution-fighters has been to get industries to meet certain water purity standards. But the "no-discharge" measure would change the rules.

Chiefly written by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, the bill was reported out with unanimous committee approval Tuesday. It seeks to change tactics in the water-pollution battle and provides $14 billion in grants to the states to help do the job.

The legislation makes the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency the chief enforcer, opens federal courts to citizen enforcement suits and establishes fines for violators of up to $50,000 a day.

The product of more than a year of testimony and study, the bill would end reliance on setting water quality standards as the chief means of pollution control.

Instead, it would establish as a national goal—to be met by 1985—the end of all polluting discharges into the nation's streams and lakes. The only exception would be polluters who prove conclusively they could not comply.

They, too, would be required, however, to employ the best pollution control technology at every phase of the program up to and after 1985.

"What this bill seeks to do is stress the state of the art and require that all polluters measure up to the best technology available, and finally that water quality standards be established that would stretch the state of the art," Muskie told newsmen.

He said the bill would put the main burden of ending pollution directly on industry.

"We will not be satisfied with what is today technologically possible," Muskie said. "What is possible in 1985 depends on how government prods industry..."

The legislation, which Muskie said he hopes to get to the Senate floor as early as next week, relies broadly on the 1899 Refuse Act now being used by the government as the legal base for requiring federal permits to regulate the discharge of pollutants.

The bill also seeks as an interim goal by 1981 the protection of fish and wildlife and recreation in and on the water.

Muskie said the total price tag of the bill will be about $17 billion, including administrative costs.

By far the largest part of this $14 billion is planned as the federal share of matching grants for construction of sewage-treatment plants.

Turner Hits School Fund Cutbacks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Robin Turner, R-14 Marion, criticized the Department of Education Tuesday for complying with Gov. John Gilligan's ordered 3 per cent cut-back in spending.

His comments came as the State Controlling Board released $39.1 million in previously allocated funds to meet a department request for money to cover vouchers for October from the school foundation subsidy.

The figure reflected the austerity cutback which Gilligan has said is necessary at all levels of state government to avert bankruptcy next year.

Turner, a controlling board member, accused the Department of Education of being "totally lax" is not insisting upon its full allocation.

He said this is especially so in light of a recent Franklin County Common Pleas Court ruling against similar cuts in state assistance to nursing homes caring for the elderly.

Turner said he hoped the department would make some attempt to recover the nearly $6 million in state aid denied it over the last two months.
